ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Any research attempt is not a simple task of searching something new, unavailable, unseen or lying out of easy way, and especially an academic scientific research is all the more difficult affair involving the service of a number of persons, such as para research assistants for continued work and participants in research needed for facilitation and process of work in the field of research, as well as more important, trained personnel for adequate guidance and successful completion of research undertaken by the investigator. It has been my pleasure to acknowledge my indebtedness to all such persons who have been instrumental directly or indirectly in lending their active support and co-operation in shaping the work of the research.

First and foremost person on the list to whom the credit is extended by me has been Dr. Bipinchandra M. Contractor, the Head of the Department of Psychology at L. & C. Mehta Arts college, Ahmedabad, who has served not only as an academic formal teacher but more as a father, philosopher and guide from the day of the conception of thesis up to the day of its delivery and submission to the proper hands of the university for the evaluation of its worthwhileness, taking fatherly care at every stage.
I have laboured hard and spent much of my energy, time and money under all sorts of guidance from Dr. Contractor. I find no adequate words to express my indebtedness to such conscientious guide.

Perhaps, of more importance and immediate concern has been the enthusiastic co-operation of Dr. Madhusudan V. Baxi, who is a devoted, born teacher, interested in the growth and career of all students, I was fortunate to share his expertise throughout. During the initial period of the research, I also procured expertise of the seniormost and distinguished professor of psychology and research methodology Dr. A.S. Patel of Baroda, a visiting professor at California State University (U.S.A.) who on his way to United States of America, spent sufficient time and accepted to offer his assistance to me, going through the whole format and statistical designs all through. My heartfelt feelings and deep gratitude shall ever remain due to such devoted professors and teachers in true sense. Again I thank Dr. Baxi and Dr. Patel.

I am also very much thankful to Dr. Navinbhai A. Patel, L. & C. Mehta Arts college, Ahmedabad, who has rendered a great help for solving the problems created during the research. He has provided me a great courage during the long process of my research work. For this I am very much obliged to him. Besides all, I enjoyed the most willing assistance from para-research worker Menka Gandhi (Gold Medalist in Architect Assistantship and first class in M.A. English), my dear sister who has helped me in collecting data and in translation as and when I needed. In the same vain, I should recollect the co-operation from the researchers and teachers, such as Dr. Nikhilaben Mehta, Dr. Renukaben Mehta, Prin.Dr. Bhalchandra Joshi, Prof. Deepakbhai shah, Prof. Achintaben Yagnik, Dr. J.V. Derasari, Prof. S.K. Desai, Prin. T.J. Purani, Dr. D.M. Pestonjee, and others gave their advice to the researcher. I also sincerely thankful to Dr. D.J. Panchal of the Department of Psychology, Arts & Commerce college, Idar, for rendering statistical analysis and computer services that enhanced aesthetic image to this thesis. A special mention needs to be made about Mr. Tejas Panchal who took keen interest and rendered his help for getting the comptuter prints done in a professional way. A sincere line of thankfulness goes to his grace.

Besides this formal academic thanking, my heart throbs with deeper feelings of gratitude to the ever ready, always enduring and everywhere supporting and encouraging members of my devoted family - my father Mr. Kishorkumar Gandhi, who has never objected to any of my educational or cultural activities, my mother Mrs. Mrudulaben, who looked after me very carefully and provided me convenience for the study, also my one and only sister Menka, who helped me whenever I needed her, hearty thanks to my loving husband Mr. Samit Sheth for encouraging and sustaining me all along and for putting up with the inconveniences caused to him by my being engrossed so long in this work. To fulfill my husband’s dream, I started the research work and with his keen support I have successfully completed it also. I owe deep gratitude also to my father-in-law Mr. Nitinbhai and mother-in-law Mrs. Naliniben, who encouraged me and endured my absense for long during my field work. I am also very thankful to my dear sister-in-law Mrs. Toralben who took care of my just born baby KAVISHA, when I was toiling, moiling and burning midnight oil to prepare for my research.

My thanks are once again due to one and all who have contributed one way or the other, and been helpful to me in my pursuit of the research.
