ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I extend my sincere gratitude to my guide Dr. Prathibha Karanth, whose guidance, encouragement, and support from the initial to the final stage of the study enabled me to develop an understanding of the subject. I am indebted to her for the experience-based suggestions and comments throughout the course of this study. Further, I am proud to be mentored by the finest guide in the country in the area of the current study.

I thank my co-guide Dr. B. Rajashekar, who played a vital role in the realization of this study and the constant support and supervision of the work thereafter.

I thank all the participants who contributed to this study in different ways at various stages in the development of this work.

Special thanks to Mr. Vasudev from the Dept. of Biostatistics, Manipal University, for his patient listening and insightful suggestions on the statistical analysis.

Vivek has been a constant supporter in the good and bad times and I thank him for being always there and I thank all my colleague-friends who have shared good times with me.

Special thanks to my mother and all my family members for their continuous support and papa and mummy for being with us during the most-wanted time of this study.

Arrival of Aditi had a catalytic impact on this work. Her giggles and smiles were a constant source of energy that helped me complete this work in a near time-bound manner. My hugs and kisses to our baby Aditi for providing me the most enjoyable moments in my life.

Shivani deserves special thanks for (joyously) threatening me having my name changed had I failed to complete my work on time! I am sure that the bet that we had speeded up this work, although I just took an additional month to complete this work! I am thankful to her for being there with me as constant source of support, inspiration, affection, and more importantly for not changing my name!

Finally, I thank Lord Almighty for righteously guiding me through the good and bad times, and providing me the courage and strength to handle the situations as well the power to assume the responsibilities in my life.
