I take this opportunity to gratefully acknowledge and heartiest thanks to Babu, Badi Ammi, Baba, Mama, for their sacrifice, love and affection which they have bestowed on me throughout my research work. I am also thankful to my younger brother (Dr. Salman Shah) and his wife (Dr. Fatima Khan) and their son Zuhaib and, also to my cousins Junaid and Farrukh for their necessary cooperation, care and moral support.

Words fall short to describe about those great personalities, Ammi and Abba, who have always encouraged me and showered their blessings throughout the progress of this work. Their everlasting love and affection, painstaking attitude, sacrifices and long awaited night hours to share the burden of mine put an extra energy to devote myself in the work.

Last but not the least, I express my infinite gratitude and never ending love to my wife (Ms. Seemi Gul Shah) and son (Hassan) for their persistent interest, encouragement and faith in me. Though I have completed the work satisfactorily but the moments that my family faced without me at a distance cannot be reverted back; and for that I will always feel sorry that I could not pay much attention towards them during that time; specifically to my son who remained deprived of not having my soothing lap for several days and nights. Their whole-heartedly efforts and sacrifices during my research work helped me in all my endeavors.
