ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The foremost prayers and praises are to Allah, the Almighty, without whose gracious blessings and guidance this work would not have achieved the present form.

Next, I wish to place on record the deep sense of my gratitude to my supervisor, Prof. A. R. Fatihi, chairman department of linguistics. In spite of a heavy draft on his time due to his engagements with the department he spared no efforts in shaping this thesis. Words fail to express befitting thanks for his constant encouragement, constructive comments and precious guidance. He grudging no time in granting me free approach to him and helping me with his constructive criticism and generous support even before I was under his official supervision. His in depth of knowledge, intellectual dynamism helped me at every stage to carry on the work in a proper direction. In fact without his help this thesis could not have achieved the finishing point.

I would be failing in my duty if I do not express my sincere thanks to Prof. Mirza Khalil. A. Beg, under whose able supervision I was originally registered as a research scholar, his scholarly advices, affection and fatherly attitude helped me a lot in coping with the hurdles faced during the present work before he retired from this university.

I feel extremely lucky to have senior teachers like Prof. Intiaz Hasnain under whose supervision I worked as a resource person in the workshop on Development for Urdu Language Information services (LIS) and learned a lot.
during that period, besides that he always genuinely agreed to help me whenever I needed some one to take care of my problems. His precious guidance helped me beyond words in the evocation of speech in mentally retarded children.

I am also grateful to my other teachers Dr. Shabana Hameed, Dr. Masood Ali Beg, Dr. Sameena A. Surti, Dr. Ekhtya Ali, Dr. Sabauddin Ahmed, Dr. Aziz Khan for their assistance and suggestions.

I am also gratified to all the friends and research scholars notably, Ms. Anjum Fatima, department of linguistics. Ms. Sahar Javed and Ms. Arcana Agarwal, department of Psychology for their full cooperation and support.

I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to Prof. Ashok Mittal, chairman, department of Economics and his wife Mrs. Usha Mittal, director ‘Asha Kiran’ special school, for their support and encouragement. Literally a large part of data collection for the present thesis was not at all possible without their help. They provided the case histories of the children and offered me voluntary teaching in their school because of which I could get closer to those gifted children. The help and support of the teachers of ‘Asha Kiran’ is also very much accredited, they made me feel that I am one of them and not an outsider.

I am also thankful to Prof. Akbar Hussain, former chairman department of psychology and Prof. Mahmood S. Khan, present chairman department of psychology, for kindly permitting me to use their seminar library. I am also beholden to Mrs. Naeema khatoon, reader, department of psychology for her valuable suggestions.

I am deeply indebted to my mother for her love, assistance and unprecedented sacrifices throughout my academic quests. I am a complete bankrupt of words to express the instrumental role played by my late father, Prof. Najmul Hasan, as a loving father, a best friend and a devoted teacher in shaping my academic career. My parents remained a never failing source of encouragement and support for me.

Thanks are also due to Mr. Najeebul Hasan Khan, Incharge- seminar library, department of linguistics, Mr. Shariq Ahmad, Incharge- seminar library & Mr. Mohd. Tajuddin, junior lab assistant, both department of psychology, Mr. Mohd Aslam Mehdi, Librarian, J. N. Medical College for their kindness to grant me a facile access to available materials in their seminar libraries. I should also not forget to thank Mr. Syed Jafar Raza, transport incharge, DPS Aligarh, for humbly granting me permission to use the school bus of my route during the period of data collection.

I am also thankful to Dr. Riaz A. Khan, Assistant administration, Mr. Anil Kumar Goel, Senior Lab Technician, Mr. Haseebur Rehman and Mr. Wasiuddin for their cooperation and assistance.

Lastly my obligations, both general and specific are many in an endeavor of this sort, I acknowledge the sole responsibility for errors of fact and interpretation, incompatibility and omission that might have inadvertently crawled into the thesis.
