Acknowledgement

To put emotions on the paper is, indeed a very difficult task. Words perhaps will fail to express my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to my esteemed guide and true mentor. "Dr. Mrs. Nighat Ahmad", Reader in the Department of Economics, A.M.U Aligarh. It was quite hard even having completed this arduous task but her love and affection towards me made it easy. It is indeed a proud privilege of having an opportunity to work with such a pleasant personality who lightened my task and made it delightful.

I must thank to Chairman of the Department Prof. Abdul Wahab, Department of Economics, A.M.U Aligarh, for his co-operation and support.

I am extremely obliged to Prof. Ashok Mittal, Professor in the Department of Economics, A.M.U Aligarh, for being a great source of encouragement and for his valuable suggestions related to this work. Even with his very busy schedule he could always find time to help me with my thesis.

I owe a special debt to my beloved parents, my father Mr. Musheer Ahmad and my mother Mrs. Maya Musheer for their love and affection throughout my life. Their continuous encouragement and inspiration motivated me to go for higher studies.

My study involved several visits to Delhi for collection of relevant literature and data. During the course of my work, I met several people who gave me direction and necessary inspiration for my study.
I thank the following personnel of the different Libraries for furnishing the information relevant to my research work, viz- National Institute of Public Finance and Policy (NIPFP) Library staff, Indian Council of Social Science and Research Centre (ICSSR), Library staff, and Maulana Azad library staff A.M.U, Aligarh, seminar staff, department of Economics, A.M.U., Aligarh.

All my family members who have been extremely supportive during this work, especially my younger brothers Mr. Suhail Ahmad and Mr. Sohaib Ahmad.

I will be doing injustice if I do not pay thanks to my Father-in-law, Mr. Mukhtar Hussain Malik, who has been extremely supportive during this work, and I would like to thank Mr. Jaseem Baig for typing the thesis.

Finally, I must not forget to pay special thanks to my husband Mr. Shaazli Malik for his undue sacrifices and valuable suggestions and providing way for me to move towards the milestone for the compilation of this thesis.

Mrs. Shabnam Khan.
