ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost, praises and thanks to the God, the Almighty, for His showers of blessings throughout my research work to complete the research successfully.

I take the honour and privilege to express my indebtedness and deep sense of gratitude to my supervisor Prof. Sushama Sharma, Formerly Dean, Faculty of Education and Chairperson, Department of Education, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra, without whose encouraging attitude, constructive criticism and expert guidance this study would not have been possible. Words are not enough to express my feelings towards her for suggesting me to carry on this work and having faith in me that I will be able to carry out this research. Her constant involvement with her originality has triggered and nourished my intellectual maturity that I’ll benefit from throughout my life.

I acknowledge my gratitude and sincere thanks to Dr. Puran Singh, Chairman, Department of Education, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for giving me the opportunity to do the research and providing all possible assistance to me during the course of study.

I would also like to thank the teachers of the Department of Education, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra in particular Dr. Ramana Sood and Dr. Sushil Kumar for providing needed insight and diligent efforts and valuable suggestions for the present endeavour.

I am blessed to have an opportunity to take guidance from Dr. Neeraj Kaushik, Associate Professor, Department of Business Administration, National Institute of Technology, Kurukshetra who kept a close insight on different phases of preparation of thesis and guided me to improve my work.

I have no words to acknowledge the contribution of Dr. Rakesh Behmani, Assistant Professor, Department of Applied Psychology, Guru Jambeshwar University of Science and Technology, Hisar for evincing keen interest and his constructive comments in the progress of this work.

I owe to extend my special thanks to Dr. Krishna Kumari for her affectionate guidance and moral support during the research work.

I gratefully acknowledge my indebtedness to the Principals and Teacher Educators of the colleges of education who cooperated immensely in data collection.
I am highly thankful to all the non teaching staff members especially to Mr. Nandlal and Mr. Somnath, Department Of Education, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for their kind cooperation.

Throughout this tenure, I have been sustained by affection and unwavering support of my sister, Dr. Kamlesh. I shall ever remain thankful to her and above all my mother Late (Smt) Surjeet Kaur who had a keen desire to see me holding the highest degree (Maa, this is due to your blessings which was initiated by the efforts of my sister). I appreciate the constant encouragement and help extended by my father and my family.

I take this opportunity to express gratefulness to my husband Major Sandeep Singh for his inspiration and encouragement, without which this work would not have reached a successful completion.

I would also like to thank all those who directly or indirectly reminded me to complete the work by rendering their cooperation.

Lastly, I would like to thank University Computers, IIIrd Gate Market, Kurukshetra for giving professional touch to my thesis.

Poonam Chaudhary