ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I bow in reverence to the Almighty God whose gracious blessings gave me the required courage and devotion to complete this task.

Words fall inadequate to express my sense of gratitude and indebtedness, which I owe to my teacher and supervisor, Dr. Mohammed Asif, Department of Economics, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh who with his perspective and discerning guidance imbued me to carry out this present study. I stand grateful for his profuse encouragement, pertinent suggestions and invaluable comments during each course of discussion, which were a source of inspiration. His profound knowledge, cheerful patience, unassuming and genuine concern has drawn great admiration. It has been a pleasure being a student with him.

I am very thankful to Professor Ashok Mittal, Chairman, Department of Economics, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, who with his experience and knowledge, encouraged and directed me in the right path of the study. I express my deep sense of gratitude to all my teachers for their support and good deal of interest in my research pursuits at various stages.

I am also thankful to librarian Mr. Bunyad Ali Khan for his support.
I feel grateful to my friends and colleagues Arifa Saleem, Hena Nisar and Nahid Akhtar Siddiqi for their moral support and help during the research period.

Mere words fail to express my appreciation to my parents and family who were the real source of motivation, inspiration and constant encouragement. Their continuous support and encouragement were instrumental for the successful completion of my research. I am very thankful to my sister Anamika Obia for her support and help at the time of need during the research work. I also express my gratitude to my mother in law for her constant encouragement and support which sustained me throughout this venture. My husband Mr. Rajan Rana should be rightly acknowledged for his patience and affection. But for his selfless concern, emotional support and motivation it would have been impossible to complete my work. Indeed, it is his encouragement and assurances, which has turned out to be my work.

Lastly, I owe gratitude to so many people whose cooperation and kindness is gratefully acknowledged.
