ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I vividly remember my first visit to Ellora. Being a practicing sculptor, I certainly was aware of the sculptural tradition of this country and the significance of Ellora sculpture but was totally ignorant about the complexities of an art-historical study of a monument. I realize today how stimulating and hence how pleasant it can be. I feel grateful to my teacher and guide Professor Ratan Parimoo who introduced me these pleasures. He not only suggested this topic to me, but it was his article in the Pupul Jaykar Felicitation Volume that initiated this study. I may not conform to some of his observations today, but the methodology of this compendium was inspired by that article.

I was fortunate enough to come in contact with the stalwarts of Indian art-history like late Shri C.Sivaramamurti and then Shri M.N.Deshpande, Shri Gorakshakar when I was not a student of art-history. I felt drawn to this discipline because of such scholars and later on interactions with Dr.R.N.Mishra, Professor W.Spink, Dr.Joanna Williams, Dr.P.Pal, Dr.A.P.Jamkhedkar and Dr.Andhare helped me to understand this discipline better. As a student of art-history I owe my gratitude to them. I must mention the late Professor N.G.Joshi and late Professor S.G.Malshe, my senior friends with whom I would have fondly shared this joy.

This dissertation would not have been complete without the patient and untiring assistance of my student and young friend Madhavi J.Athalye. Her valuable suggestions and the stimulating discussions with her have contributed so much to this work. I do and will always feel indebted to her.
My student friends, Jayaram Poduval, Sarada Natarajan and Suresh Jayaram accompanied me to Ellora. The on-site discussions with them clarified several issues. Some of my other students Renuka, Anish, Pallavi and Aqueel helped in many ways. I am thankful to all of them.

I am also thankful to Shri Himanshu Padh who printed the photographs and also to Shri H.S.Kadam and Ravi Kadam. My thanks are due to Shri Shailendra Khushwaha and Nilanjana for their archival assistance and to Shri Mahesh Deshpande, Shri M.K.Chaudhari and Shri Nishigandh Deshpande for other help.

I am grateful to Satish and Shirish Nagarkar, who out of sheer affection coped up with my irregular hectic schedule and managed to complete this typing work in time and that too so neatly.

I also take this opportunity to express gratitude to my family members and though I do not understand how, to Sou. Uma, Aniruddha and Girija, for being with me always.

20-8-92

DEEPAK H. KANNAI