ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It gives me great pleasure to place on record my deep sense of gratitude to my supervising teacher, Dr. M. L. P. Reddy, for his guidance, keen interest, constructive criticism and valuable suggestions throughout the course of these investigations.

I am grateful to Prof. Javed Iqbal, Director, RRL(T) and the former Director, Dr. G. Vijay Nair, for extending the necessary facilities for carrying out the research work.

I owe my special thanks to

- Dr. G. D. Surender, Head, Process Science and Engineering Division, RRL, for his constant encouragement towards my research work.
- Dr. T. R. Ramamohan, Deputy Director, RRL, for his help to carry out the mathematical modeling of the experimental data.
- Dr. T. Prasada Rao, Deputy Director, RRL, for the valuable suggestions during the course of my work.
- The staff of the R & D Section of T.C.C., Cochin, for the analytical part of the work.
- Ms. Soumini Mathew for $^1$H NMR spectra, Mr. P. Mukundan for the help received in IR spectra, Mr. T. R. Sureshkumar for the neat drawings, Ms. Meera R. and Ms. Shermily P. R. who have helped in various stages of the experimental work.
- Cytec Canada Inc., for providing free samples of CYANEX reagents.
- Members of Ion-specific Separation Science & Technology Group, RRL, for their invaluable support and co-operation.
- Library and other supporting staff of RRL for the help rendered.
- All other friends and colleagues of RRL for their support.

I acknowledge the Ministry of Environment and Forests, New Delhi and the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, New Delhi, for their financial assistance in the form of research fellowships.

I take this opportunity to record my respect, regard and gratitude to all my teachers for the help, guidance and motivation that I have received during the course of my student life.

Above all, I bow my head to almighty God for blessing me with my beloved parents, a loving husband, inspiring sisters and in-laws for their patience and moral support shown to me, which enabled me to complete this task.
