I praise our merciful Lord for having provided the strength and wisdom, enabling me to do this work.

I express my sincere gratitude to Prof. A. C. Sinha, my Teacher and Guide, whose valuable stewardship and constant encouragement throughout the course of the research have led to this successful end. I have no adequate words to express how much I owe him for his contributions, which I have been fortunate enough to imbibe. My gratitudes are due to my other teachers, Prof. M.N. Karna, Dr. V. Xaxa, Dr. Nikhlesh Kumar and Mr. C. Lima Imchen, Department of Sociology, North-Eastern Hill University, Shillong, who trained me in the discipline and without their blessings this work would not have been possible. My sincere thanks are extended to Dr. I. Lanu Aier, Lecturer in Sociology, Pachhunga University College, Aizawl, for his all possible kind help. I am also thankful to Prof. T.N. Pandey, Visiting Professor, Department of Anthropology, NEHU, Shillong, for his kind advice and encouragement particularly, while formulating an experimental development in one multi-ethnic Naga Village of Diphupar.

I sincerely acknowledge my obligations to Dr. M. C. Joshi, Dean, and my colleagues, Prof. P.L. Kar, Prof. B.S. Chauhan, Mr. R.K. Dhar, NEHU (School of...
Agricultural Sciences & Rural Development), Medziphema, Nagaland, for their kind help in this work. My thanks are due to Mr. Choudhury, Artist, NEHU (SASRD), Medziphema, and Mr. Pillai, Artist, Directorate of Census, Nagaland, Kohima, for their kind help in maping and graphing works.

I extend my sincere thanks to all the residents of the five villages selected for this study, particularly the village elders and the numerous respondents, who provided me with the required data. I also record my thanks to all other friends and colleagues whose helps are so many to be mentioned.

My thanks are due to the authorities of the University Grants Commission, New Delhi, for granting me financial assistance to enable me to undertake this exercise, which eventually developed from a limited research project to this magnitude.

I do extend my thanks to J. Datta, Steno, NEHU (SASRD), Medziphema, Nagaland, for typing the first draft and Mr. Joseph F. Khongbuh, Stenographer, Central Institute of English & Foreign Languages, Regional Centre, Shillong, for his kind efforts in typing and cyclostyling the final manuscript as desired by me within a very few days.

And always, to my dear wife and children, for the patiently bearing on me for days and nights throughout the busy days of this work.
