Throughout the course of my study many a people from all walks of life and all over the world, in their own way, have worked as sincerely as me and deserve as much for their work. Unfinished would be my work, if the people behind the scenes are not mentioned.

Foremost, I wish to express my total gratitude and indebtedness to Dr. N. Ramanujam, Professor & Head, PG Dept. of Geology, V.O. Chidambaram College, Tuticorin, for guiding me throughout the period of study and all the encouragement given to me during each and every stage of my work. A true guide he has been, in both my curricular and public life, an inspiration, a friend, philosopher and guide.

I gratefully acknowledge the University Grants Commission, New Delhi for providing me with the much needed monetary assistance in the form of Junior Research Fellowship and Senior Research Fellowship.

I extend my gratitude to the institution, V.O. Chidambaram College, as a whole and especially to the Hon. Secretary Mr. A.P.C.V. Chockalingam, the former Principal Prof. S. Duraisamy, the Principal Prof. R. Suriyanarayanan, and all the staff of the PG Dept. of Geology of our college for all their support and guidance.

I am totally indebted to Prof. A. Balasubramanian, Dept.of Studies in Geology, University of Mysore, Mysore and Mr. V. Radhakrishnan, Assistant Head, PG Dept.of Geology, V.O. Chidambaram College, Tuticorin who have been perfect critics to my research work in the capacity of members of the assessment committee.

Dr. A.C. Morton, Biostratigraphy & Sedimentology Group, British Geological Survey, Keyworth, Nottingham NG125 GG, the fore runner in garnet study, has to be thanked for extending his help in carrying out the microprobe analysis of garnet samples.

An important analytical tool to determine the hyperbolic distribution of grain size was supplied by Prof. Christian Christansen, Geografisk Institute, Uster Voldgade 1C, Kobenhavns Universiteit, DK-1350 Kobenhavn K. Denmark in the form of SAHARA Programme, an easy and accurate PC package, for which I express my deep sense of gratitude.

I sincerely thank the Director, CECRI, Karaikudi and R & D, Veli, Trivandrum for carrying out the X-ray Diffraction analysis of the heavy mineral samples.
Kind acknowledgments are due to the Director, IIT Madras, for making avail the facilities for getting the Scanning Electron Microscope photographs of the heavy minerals.

Help rendered by IRE, Quilon and CESS Thiruvananthapuram, for separation of ilmenite by Frantz Isodynamic Separator is highly acknowledged.

I am pleased to place on record, my thanks to SPIC, Tuticorin and Regional Salt Testing Laboratory, Tuticorin for analysing the chemical composition of ilmenite samples.

I wish to thank Dr. Thrivikramji, Professor, and Mr. Sabu Joseph, Research Assistant, Department of Geology, University of Kerala for permitting me to take the microscopic photographs of heavy minerals.

My thanks are due to the Principal, Government Polytechnic, Tuticorin for their kind help in getting the compressive strength of cliff materials.

I express my special thanks to Dr. D. Padmalal, Scientist, CESS, Thiruvananthapuram, for his timely help.

Mere words of thanks will just not suffice the amount of emotional and physical help given to me by my dear colleague Mr. M.V. Mukesh, throughout the period.

I gratefully acknowledge Mr. A.S. Sudheer, Mr. Elangovan, Mr. T. R. Viraj, Mr. J. Bright, Mr. V. R. Sunil Kumar, Mr. Jayaprakash and Mr. T. S. Minish for assisting me during my field work.

I wish to place on record the help rendered by my friends Dr. Sakthi Murugan, Mr. V. R. Raguraman, Mrs. N. B. Preeja, and Miss. V. R. Ambika Devi, in attaining my goal.

My thanks and respect are due to each and every one in my Family who have been the hidden pillars of strength for the smooth progress of the work.

M/s Sapphire Computers, Tuticorin are thanked for typing the rough draft of the manuscript.

I am grateful to M/s Blessings Computers, Tuticorin, M/s Muki Systems and M/s Image Graphics, Varkala, for the drafting of figures.

M/s Synchro Computers, Tuticorin receives my thankfulness for making this thesis into a beautiful presentation.

I have taken great care to mention every one who have been of any help to me, though if I may have forgotten to mention any one, I curse my memory and extend the whole hearted indebtedness to the above unmentioned.

H.M. SABEEN
