ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is with a sense of profound gratitude that I place on record my sincere thanks to all the individuals and institutions who have encouraged and supported me during the course of my research work.

This thesis work has been completed under the guidance of Dr. Moli P. Koshy, Reader, School of Management Studies (SMS), Cochin University of Science and Technology (CUSAT), who had tirelessly kept on motivating and encouraging me to put in my best effort. I express my heartfelt gratitude to her for the valuable guidance, advice and encouragement that I received from her throughout the course of my work.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. Francis Cherunilam, member of my Doctoral Committee, for his unstinted support and encouragement. His valuable contributions to the field of management research and education has enthused many a person including me. I am greatly indebted to Dr. Mary Joseph, former Director of SMS, CUSAT, who has been a source of inspiration and who had mentored me during the course of my work. Dr. K. Krishnan Namboothiri, Reader, SMS, CUSAT was instrumental in motivating me to take up doctoral work with SMS, CUSAT. I will always be thankful to him. Dr. Manoj Edward, faculty member, SMS, CUSAT was my favourite sounding board for ideas pertaining to statistical analysis; I thank him for his patience and the time he had spent with me. Dr. Zakkariya K. A. was my silent partner for helping me format my thesis in the correct structure.

I express my gratitude to Dr.K.B. Pavithran, Director, School of Management Studies, CUSAT for actively encouraging me and for all the support he had provided during the course of this study. My special thanks to all the faculty members of SMS, CUSAT, who had made me feel at home in the institute and were kind enough to help me on several occasions during my research work through their valuable suggestions. In this regard I am greatly indebted to Dr. S. R. Mampally, Dr. M. Bhasi, Dr. James Manalel, Dr. P.R. Wilson, Dr.P. Sudarsanan Pillai, Dr. Jagathy Raj V. P., Dr. D. Mavootho, Dr. S. Ratjithakumar and all other esteemed faculty members of SMS, CUSAT. My sincere thanks go to all the office and library staff of SMS,
CUSAT, who had willingly and unreservedly extended all the support I needed to complete this work.

Dr. K.V.M Varambally, Director, Manipal Institute of Management, where I work requires a special thanks for all the motivation and abundant encouragement he had provided while I was doing the doctoral work. My colleague, Mr. Nandan Prabhu, had helped me with the usage of the correct language for which I am grateful to him. My faculty colleagues Mr. Lakshminarayanan, Dr. Manjunath Prasad, Mr. V. K. Ranjith, Ms Pallavi Upadhyaya, Mr. Ravendra Rao, Mr. Yogesh Pai and Ms Smitha Nayak have always been helpful to me and I thank them for that. I am thankful to many of my former students, some of whom are employed in the banks which I had contacted and who had helped me in the collection of data. I also express my gratitude to the officials of the banks who had helped me in my research work, by way of giving valuable suggestions and helping me in the collection of data.

I am grateful to my parents Mr. A. J. Joshua and Dr. Achamma Joshua for their prayers and blessings. Their wish to see me achieve greater heights in my education and career has motivated me throughout my life. My special thanks are due to my dear wife Preethy and our children Preethusha and Deepu who had to put up with a lot of inconveniences and difficulties that occurred during the period of the study.

Above all, I thank God almighty for being with me to bring this study to its completion and taking care of me during this time and always.
