ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Although I am sole author of the thesis, I am by no means the sole contributor! So many people have contributed to my thesis, to my education, and to my life. Now it is my great pleasure to take this opportunity to thank them.

At the prelude I express my deepest sense of obligation and admiration to my research supervisor Dr. K. Nagabhushan Raju, Associate Professor, Department of Instrumentation, Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Anantapur for his able, inspiring, constructional, and benevolent guidance and valuable suggestions throughout my research. I learned from him scientific thinking and I admire his sincerity, patience and dedication.

I shall ever remain grateful and indebted to my chief mentor and beloved teacher Dr. P. Bhaskar, Reader, Department of Instrumentation Technology, Gulbarga University Post Graduation Centre, Raichur, Karnataka. He proved to be a friend, philosopher and guide in the veridical sense of term and stood by me through the thick and thin of my research regime. I am and will forever remain duty-bound to him for his kind co-operation, encouragement and help extended that went even beyond the academics. He is a constant source of inspiration to me in all my endeavors. These words cannot express my gratitude to him.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to my another beloved teacher Dr. (Smt.) Parvathi C. S., Reader and Chairperson, Department of Instrumentation Technology, Gulbarga University Post Graduation Centre, Raichur, Karnataka for her tremendous wholehearted support to pursue my research studies. This work would not have taken this shape without her support.

I also record my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. K. Malakondaiah, Department of Instrumentation, Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Anantapur for his constant encouragement and valuable suggestions throughout my research. He is a source of inspiration for all the juvenile researchers. Also, I am extremely thankful to Dr. B.
Ramamurthy, Associate Professor and Head: Department of Instrumentation, Sri. Allabaksh, Associate Professor, Dr. C. Nagaraja, Associate Professor, and Dr. K. Azam Khan, Associate Professor, Department of Instrumentation, Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Anantapur for their help and cooperation.

I am extremely grateful to Prof. A. B. Kulkarni, Chairman, Department of Applied Electronics, and Dean: Faculty of Science and Technology, Gulbarga University, Gulbarga for his valuable suggestions.

I acknowledge my indebtedness to all those scholars whose works I have drawn upon. They have not only enriched my understanding of the subject but also served as the source of inspiration.

I need special mention for my best allies L. Shrimanth Sudheer and Laxmikant R. for long discussions on various topics like philosophy, culture, science, technology, traditions, history, movies etc. I found them very encouraging; with out their help it would have been difficult, if not possible, to carry out the work.

I am grateful to Prof. M. B. Horakeri, Special Officer, Dr. C. Nagabhushana, Reader, and Dr. (Smt). K. Sharada, Reader, Department of Studies and Research in Kannada, and Sri. G. S. Biradar, Assistant Librarian, Gulbarga University Post Graduate Centre, Raichur for providing a great atmosphere, accommodation and library facilities during my research work at P. G. Centre.

I remain thankful to our technicians, S. Balaramaiah, M. Ganesh, G. Dhananjaya, P. Sudarshanam, K. Madhusudan Goud, K. Saiprasad, G. Chandrashekar Rao, Obulesu, V. Sahadevan, and K. Venkateswar Rao, University Science Instrumentation Centre, Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Anantapur for their assistance and cooperation during the research work.

I shall remain grateful to my affectionate roommates and the best pals for their help and encouragement. I remember their company during my little research period forever and words are not enough to describe their company.
I am very fortunate to have huge number of friends during my studies; I would like to thank each and every one of them. Also during my stay at P.G. Centre, Raichur I had a great company of guest lecturers of both the Departments of Instrumentation Technology and Computer Science.

I would like to thank my fellow researchers and friends in the Department of Instrumentation and Department of Electronics for their help and company during my small research era.

My sense of appreciation and thanks are due to my beloved student friends of M.Sc. Electronics and Instrumentation, Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Anantapur and my beloved student friends of M.Sc. Instrumentation Technology, Gulbarga University Post Graduation Centre, Raichur, Karnataka for their help in completing this work.

I am also obliged to the authorities of Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Anantapur for providing me all the facilities to carry out research studies.

Kala, the most important and unforgettable person in my life who stood right beside me in all the pains, happiness, failure and success, to whom I will ever be thankful, grateful, and to whom the words are not enough to mention.

Finally, a bit closer to home, I would like to add my appreciation for my parents, for their infinite kindness and patience. Their efforts become backbone for me to pursue Ph.D. studies. My special note of mention here to my family and little pearls Shravani, Vandana and Kishore for their eternal lightness of company.
