ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am greatly indebted to my learned supervisor, Dr. S. Ravindranathan, Professor and Head of the Department of English, Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, Tirunelveli, for having been a constant source of inspiration and encouragement. With his unfailing patience, help, affection, understanding, sympathy and guidance, he offered valuable suggestions and critical comments but for which I could not have been able to write this thesis. I sincerely express my heart-felt gratitude to him.

I am highly grateful to Rev. Fr. Antony A. Pappuraj, S.J., Principal of St. Xavier's College, Palayamkottai, and Rev. Fr. S. Ignacimuthu, S.J., Principal of Loyola College, Chennai, for their affection, consideration and inspiring words.

It gives me much pleasure to express my thankfulness to Rev. Fr. Leo Correya, S.J., and Rev. Fr. Francis M. Peter, S.J., for extending to me all possible help.

With a deep sense of gratitude I remember Prof. S. A. Thiaga Rajan, Vice-Principal, St. Xavier's College, Palayamkottai and Dr. S. Mark Joseph, Department of English, St. John's College,
Palayamkottai, who have gone through the thesis with patience and care.

I am extremely happy in mentioning the names of my friends and colleagues Dr. V. S. Joseph Albert, Dr. S. John Peter Joseph and Prof. A. Calisthus, who were always very forthcoming in extending help to me.

My profound thanks are due to the University Grants Commission for granting me one year leave under Faculty Improvement Programme for doing my research; to the library staff of Study Centre for Indian Literature in English and Translation, American College, for helping me with relevant books for the purpose of my research.

I extend my deep sense of gratitude to the members of my family and well-wishers, who extended their best wishes for my thesis.

I cannot fail to express my deep sense of thankfulness to Mr. P. Sushil Kumar, M.Sc., B.Ed., for his excellent typing and neat printout of this thesis.