ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is my foremost and most pleasant duty to express my deep sense of gratefulness and sincere thanks to Prof. P. Bhanja for his guidance and supervision during the entire course of the studies, the results of which has been embodied in this dissertation.

I also like to gratefully acknowledge the encouragement given to me and keen interest shown by all my teachers of this department. I cannot help specifically mentioning the names of Prof. M.A. Choudhuri, Prof. A.K. Mukherjee, Prof. S.K. Roy, Prof. P. Sarma, Prof. B. Nandi, Mr. P. DasGupta, Mr. P. K. Bhattacharyya, Dr. (Mrs.) S. Nandi, Dr. K. Gupta, Prof. S. P. Chatterjee and Dr. P. Bairagi in this regard.

I owe a particular debt of gratitude to Dr. P. K. Pal for his unstinted help and valuable advices on some matters related to palynology on which a considerable part of this dissertation is devoted to.

It is a pleasant duty for me to record here my sincere thanks to Prof. D. N. De of I.I.T., Kharagpur for some of his helpful suggestions and for the kind gift of some fluorochromes, and to Dr. R. V. Kamathi, Dr. D. N. Guha Bakshi and Dr. M. S. Mondal of the Botanical Survey of India, Calcutta, for kindly identifying some commelinaceous plants and for making available certain valuable references from their library. I am also thankful to Mr. A. Nandi and Mr. R. Nandi of Chandannagar for certain dark-room facilities and for the helpful suggestions on photography in general.

My sincere thanks are due to some of my past and present research colleagues like Dr. S. Ghosh, Dr. K.K. Chattopadhyay, Dr. B. K. Sinha, Mr. K. Sarkar, Mr. A. K. Ghosh and many others whose association and active help in various ways had been a source of joy and inspiration to me.

I am also very much thankful to Mr. P. S. Ghosh and Mr. A. K. Chakrabarty who has done the final and draft typings of this work with great patience and have agreed to all my requests with smiling faces.

Finally, I wish to express my deep appreciation to my Mother and Brother, who lovingly endured my inevitable absences from the home with patience and understanding and gave me encouragement when it was most needed.
