I acknowledge my sincerest gratitude to Dr. S.K. Barpujari, Retired Reader in History, Gauhati University and my supervisor without whose guidance the thesis would not have seen the light of the day. My acknowledgements also go to Dr. J.B. Bhattacherjee, Dr. Sujit Kumar Ghose and Prof. Debabrata Datta for their constant help, advice and co-operation in my undertaking.

My acknowledgements are also due to the authors whose works I have very frequently consulted and to the Director of West Bengal State Archives, Calcutta, and Officer in-charge of Records, Assam Secretariat, Dispur. I am grateful to the officers and staff of the National Library, Calcutta, State District Library, Guwahati, Cachar District Record Room and Library, Silchar and District Library, Silchar for allowing access to the materials in their custody. My thanks are also due to my friends, colleagues and relations who gave me co-operation and encouragement in different ways to complete my investigations.

(Ratna Dey)