ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I have the pleasure to express my heartiest sense of gratitude to my revered guide, Dr Jatin Kalita, for his insistence and meticulous supervision which immensely inspired me to accomplish the present work.

I wish to convey my sincere gratitude to the Heads of the Department of Zoology, Gauhati University, Prof. T.C. Deka, Prof (Mrs) M.Das, Prof. S.C. Dey, Prof. H.C. Mahanta and Prof. P.C. Bhattacharjee for providing me with adequate laboratory facilities and valuable suggestions all the time during the course of my research endeavour. I am also thankful to the teachers and officials of this department, especially Prof. A. Datta, Dr R.K. Bholia, Dr D.K. Sharma, Dr U.C. Goswami, Dr M.M. Goswami, Dr A. Borkotoki, Dr K. Datta, Shri Jogen Kalita, Shri P.K. Saikia, Shri G. Goswami and Shri M. Sharma.

My efforts would have been severely handicapped without the minute and tedious scrutiny of Mrs R. Gangguli, Shri T. Bharali, Shri T. Deka, Shri P.K. Singh of the manuscript of this thesis and to give it the present shape.

I wish to praise deeply the works of Shri G. Chetri, Shri R. Barman and Shri S. Chakravarti for their splendid photography which has not only ornamented but become an inseparable part of my thesis.

I am thankful to the employees and scholars of the "V.V. Rao Research Scholars Hostel", especially to my close associates, Sarvashri - Dhruba, Partha, Biren, Gautam, Dandadhar, Dandeswar, Bhaskar, Nitul, Tulsi, Devojit, Tapan, B. Singh, N. Goswami, Samudra and cartographer Shri Harimohan for their amiable company and valued suggestions which rejuvenated my spirit and aspirations during the course of my work.

I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to our hostel Warden, Dr U. Deka, for providing me with facilities and friendly advise and affection which influenced me in completing the works without any hurdles.

I wish to put in record my deep pleasures in thanking all the teachers, employees and friends, particularly, the Head of the Department of Zoology, of Nabajyoti College (Barpeta District) Assam, for their unending help and suggestions.
I am happy to convey my gratitude and cordial thanks to the Principal of Nabajyoti College (Kalgachia); Vice-Chancellor, Academic Registrar, U.G.C. officials for awarding me the "Teachers Fellowship" without which it would have been impossible for me to complete the research work smoothly. I am also thankful to Shri Sharma, Shri Baruah and Shri Roy of U.G.C branch of the Gauhati University for their unstinted help and co-operation.

I am also indebted to the Forest officials of Kamrup District (Assam); the scientists and resource persons from many parts of India and abroad; Dr N. Talukdar of the Computer Centre of Gauhati University; Ms Rashmi Baruah, Ms. T. Nath, Mr S. Mannan, Dr P. Bordoloi and Mr M. Saadulla of M/s Macons People; Mr S. Baid of Compumaticks, Mr S. Chakravarty of Annalac for their industrious co-operation in computing and typing out this research work.

I am indeed grateful to the scientists of International Institute of Entomology, London; Directorates of Forestry - USA, Pakistan, Thailand, Japan; Kerala Forest Research Institute; IARI, Pusa; Forest Research Institute, Dehradun; College of Forestry, Burnihat (Meghalaya); College of Vety. Science (AAU) Guwahati; Meteorological Centre, Borjhar Airport (Guwahati) for providing necessary information and help.

I am ever grateful to my loving parents Mlvi. F. Karim and Mrs R. Begum; brother Mr M Hussain, Mr S. Ahmed; in-laws Mrs S. Ajad Ahmed and Mr E. Ali; Dr (Mrs) A. Kalita and Shri G. Chetri for their moral and financial support during my research period, without which it would not have been possible to complete this task in time.

Lastly, my sincere thanks goes to my wife Sheikh Anisatul Fatema, the root cause of all my success, who helped in carrying out my frequent field trips at odd times with sympathy and patience.

(Md. Shahajamal Sheikh)
Lecturer, Department of Zoology
Nabajyoti College, Kalgachia
(Assam)