Acknowledgement

Looking back, I am surprised and at the same time very grateful for all I have received throughout these years. It has certainly shaped me as a person and has led me where I am now. It would not have been possible to write this doctoral thesis without the help and support of the kind people around me, to only some of whom it is possible to give particular mention here.

First I would like to express my deep and sincere gratitude to my supervisor, Dr. Vijay Veer, Scientist ‘G’, Director, DRL, Tezpur, Assam for all the hope he has put on me, before I thought I could do any research at all. He has always encouraged and helped me to see science in their full depth. He has enlightened me through his wide knowledge of Entomology and his deepest intuitions about where it should go and what is necessary to get there.

It gives me an immense debt of gratitude to express my sincere thanks to my co-supervisor, Prof. O. P. Agrawal, School of Studies Zoology, Jiwaji university, Gwalior (M.P.) for his excellent guidance, constant encouragement and detailed review during the course of my research work and preparation of this thesis.

I am highly indebted to (Prof) Dr. M. P. Kaushik, Sc. ‘H’ Director, DRDE, Gwalior, for providing me such a great laboratory set up to work in and for his unvarying encouragement.

I also a huge debt of gratitude to Dr. D. Sukumaran, Sc. ‘F’ Head, Vector Management Division, DRDE, Gwalior, who imparted me adequate impetus to work with ease in a congenial, conducive environment and for support in completion in my thesis.

I am heartily grateful to Dr. Sachin N. Tikar, Sc. ‘D’, for being instrumental in imparting expertise and guidance in the accomplishment of all the various tasks.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Dr. M. J. Mendki, Sc. ‘E’, who supported me in various stages of my research and thesis preparation in various capacities. This has been a major factor in the completion of my thesis.
I thank Dr. T. Seenivasgan, Sc. ‘D’, for their guidance in carrying out the study in olfactometer, GC/MS and electroantennogram with their statistical analysis. And I am also thankful to Dr. Ajay Kumar Sharma, Sc. ‘C’, for their invaluable support.

I am also especially thankful to Mr. Shakti V. Shukla, Director, Fragrance and Flavor Development Center (FFDC), Kannuj, Uttar Pradesh, India, for providing various essential oils for our research purpose.

I am also especially thankful to Lt. Col. Dr. Manu Chopra, for his invaluable guidance, enthusiasm, moral support, and support throughout the course of this work.

I would like to thank Mr. Ram Singh, Dr. Kshitij Chandel and Mr. Amar Pal Singh for all her technical support and maintaining the Aedes aegypti mosquito colony in the laboratory of the Vector Management Division at DRDE, Gwalior.

In addition, I would like to thank my colleagues at DRDE, Gwalior. Especially Late. Darshan Singh, Shmt. Ruchi Yadav, Matadeen, Ashok Kumar, Preetika Arya, Priyalika Tripathi, A. K. Singh, S. Shrivastava, Yogesh Wasu and Varun Tyagi for their support. I am also thankful to Vikram Bharti, B. K. Arya, Virendra and Barelal for providing laboratory assistance.

Very notable help was rendered by the TIRC division, I sincerely thanks to Dr. K. D. Vyas and Mrs. Chitra Ingle. I also thank Mr. Rafique for providing help in photographs.

There are several people I would like to mention separately because of the special place they have in my life. A penultimate thank goes to my wonderful friends Arjun Sharma, Gulshan Kumar, Harshit Shadav, Nitin Negi, Dev Chauhan and Sudhir Dhore for helping me to get through the difficult times, and for all the emotional support, camaraderie, entertainment, and caring they provided. I express my warmest thanks to my fellow colleagues Sumit Agrawal, Nagendra, Lokesh Rai, Dilip Chaudhary, and Nitin Dangi for making my stay in Gwalior memorable.

Above and beyond all, my heartfelt gratitude to my father Shri. B. R. Uniyal, my mother Shmt. Devanjali Uniyal and my brother Anuj Uniyal for their much needed support patience, understanding, and encouragement in every possible way and their endless love, perpetual, indispensable help, support and everything made all this possible.

Of course, the help of almighty “GOD” cannot be overlooked. I could not have dreamt of a place better than DRDE, Gwalior for my research work.

I would like to thank everybody who was important to the successful realization of the thesis, as well as expressing my apology that I could not mention personally one by one.

Ashish Uniyal
