This thesis is compilation of literatures, views, suggestion and judgments which are presented to raise voice on matters relating to domestic violence against the women and right of women in specific on the backdrop of violence-domestic to be precise. The need on focusing on domestic violence as the major concern for women in India. In India, where a women is predominantly shunned away from enjoying her basic rights. Today, few laws explicitly treat men and women differently. The cases vary from urban to rural societies as well as educated to non-educated classes. women from poor women, unprivileged class. Caste-those rights are still far from a reality.

I am deeply grateful to Shri Advocate Dharmesh Manjeshwar and Mr. Sameer Satardekar who was of considerable assistance to me in thesis. I am also grateful to My advocate friends whose assistance also contributed to the successful completion of my task. J JTU chancellor, Vice-Chancellor and staff helped in collecting cross-references to cases referred to in the thesis. I thank to Librarian for allowing me the use of the library and assisted me to work in the library. I am particularly grateful to Smt. Dr. Rakhee Kelaskar whose office/College is very close to mine, for giving suggestion to me from time to time. I am most indebted to my wife and my children for not only for moral support but also encouraging me to complete the task of thesis.

I must express my sincere and heartfelt gratitude to my respected Guide sir Dr. N.G. Meshram and My Co-Ordinator Sir Dr. Charan and Ajit Sir for providing valuable suggestions in compiling this work.

I would also like to thanks to J JTU Staff for helping me in the completion of the work apart from giving the moral support and encouragement.

Suggestions for improvement will be grateful received and will be given effect to in thesis.