ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

One of the joys of completion is to recollect and retrospect the last journey and remember all those travelled along making it a great success.

I express my heartfelt gratitude and deepest appreciation to my guide Dr.(Mrs) R. P. Lalitha Reddy, Associate Professor, Department of Food and Nutrition, Smt. V. H.D. Central Institute of Home Science, Bangalore who has the best attitude and excitement with regard to teaching, without her invaluable guidance and persistent help this thesis would not have been possible. She is not only a mentor but a dear friend; I could not have asked for better role model who was inspirational, supportive and patient. It has been an honor to be her Ph.D student.

My sincere thanks goes to the Principal of Smt. V.H.D. Central Institute of Home Science College, Bangalore, Professor O. Obaiah for his humbleness, kind concern and help in multifarious ways.

I place on my record my humble thanks to Professor Malliha Parveen Khanum, Head of the Department, Food and Nutrition, Smt. V.H.D. Central Institute of Home Science, Bangalore, for her co-operation and valuable help which enabled me to complete this work successfully.

I thank Dr. Prema Kumari and Dr. Renuka Devi. R, Former Chairpersons, BOS in Home Science, & Dr. Malini Jayasurya, Head and present Chairperson BOS in Home Science, Bangalore University, Bangalore for the co-operation extended during my study.

I would not have reached my destination but for Dr. (Mrs) Mushtari Begum. J. Rtd. Professor and Head, Division of Home Science, University of Agricultural Science, Bangalore, the zeal and enthusiasm she has for research, is contagious and motivational for me, even during low tides in the Ph.D pursuit. I owe my immense gratitude for her valuable time and constant guidance to make my Ph.D experience stimulating and productive.

My deepest sense of gratitude goes to honorable Dr. Raghupati, P, Senior Pediatric Endocrinologist, Sagar Hospitals, Professor of Pediatric Endocrinology, IGICH, Bangalore for providing informatics in relevance with subjects with no inhibitions. Without his valuable guidance, suggestions and great ideas I could not have accomplished this.

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to the Management of Sagar Hospitals, Jayanagar for the permission, encouragement, rich and fertile environment to pursue my Ph.D and explore innovative ideas. Management and doctors from IGICH, Bangalore needs to be recognized for the opportunity to do my project in their prestigious institution.

I deeply thank all my subjects and their parents who were there for the study with full co-operation. They were present during the entire process and gave their consent to carry out bio-chemical and diabetic education intervention program. But for their valuable help my work would not have been completed successfully.

I thank Dr. Mariamma Philip, Senior Scientific Officer, Dept. of Biostatistics, NIMHANS, Bangalore for the generosity with which she assisted me with statistics, and her readiness for queries and clarifications. I am thankful to Mr. Manjunath Wadi (Statistician) Wipro Technologies, Bangalore, for timely help and wisdom of his counsel which are beyond words.

It is my great pleasure to thank Mr. Krishna Rao, Rtd. Senior Proof Reader, UAS Bangalore for kind attention to review the manuscript for completion.

I am surrounded by wonderful colleagues and grateful for the unstinting help they extended in entering the data, typing, graphical presentations and bearing with all my short comings. I thank Ms. Veena, Ms. Bhargavi, Ms. Divya, Ms. Vidya and Ms. Nisha for their kind co-operation and timely help. Ms. Aneesha deserves special thanks for her constant help with her good computer knowledge.
I would not have completed this task without my friends who instilled with me a love of creative pursuits, constant advice and valuable suggestions, for which I would like to thank all of them. I wish to express my gratitude to all who have provided their valuable guidance and co-operation directly or indirectly to complete my research work.

It gives me great privilege to express my gratitude to all my beloved family members for their understanding, co-operation, encouragement and moral support throughout this endeavour.

Words fail me to express my appreciation to my husband K. Srinivas Kumar, whose dedication, love, inspiration, encouragement, faithful support, patience and persistent confidence in me has taken the load off my shoulder throughout this journey. Thank you.

Finally I bow my head before God and give thanks for bestowing me with strength to complete the whole task.
