ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This dissertation has been the most challenging academic endeavor that I have ever embarked upon. Without the help, guidance, and support of the following people, this journey could not be completed. I would like to express my deepest gratitude and sincere thanks to Dr. Dolphy Abraham, my supervisor, whose mentoring has been the guiding light that has helped me complete this hard and long journey. Dr. Abraham’s wisdom, patience, scholarly inputs, and his adherence to the highest academic standards has greatly inspired and motivated me. His love for research, commitment to quality, and intellectual thinking make him a great mentor and a role model for researchers. I consider it my great privilege to be mentored by someone like Dr. Abraham. I am truly indebted to him for his unconditional support, quick turnaround time despite his many other commitments, and his positive disposition. I thank you Dr. Abraham, for everything you have done for me.

I would also like to thank the other members of my dissertation committee, Dr. Madhumita Majumder, Dr. Virginia Kleist, and Dr. Sajan Mathew for their support, insightful comments and guidance. Dr. Majumder is truly inspirational with her immense knowledge and her scholarly thinking. Her expertise in statistics helped me tremendously in completing my dissertation. She also helped me with the survey instrument and with writing up the analysis section of my dissertation. I thank her for her understanding and her encouragement. Dr. Mathew’s support helped me at all stages of this dissertation.
It is with the deepest sense of gratitude that I thank Dr. Virginia Kleist, for her help, guidance and her scholarly inputs. I can never thank Dr. Kleist enough, for the hours she has spent editing and refining my dissertation, and her intellectual inputs that has helped me tremendously in improving the quality of my work. Dr. Kleist is a truly inspirational academic and I feel very fortunate and honored to be mentored by her.

I would also like to thank Dr. Shamim Mondal for his inputs on the research design and Dr. Mohan Gopinath for his encouragement and support. Dr. Swaroop Reddy, my friend and colleague, for his support, encouragement and for editing parts of my work.

I am deeply indebted to my family for helping me and encouraging me throughout this journey. I thank my husband, Shuja for being there always. His love, support and encouragement are a true blessing in my life. I am grateful to him for allowing me to pursue my dreams amidst all odds and for taking care of the home and kids while I was away. I also thank my two daughters, Hayah and Rayya for their love and patience during this journey. I especially thank Hayah for spending her weekends without me while I was gone for my classes and patiently waiting for me while I was busy with my work. I thank my parents for helping, supporting and guiding me for all these years. I also thank my sisters, Novneen and Samreen for giving me a patient listening whenever I was overwhelmed with work.

I am thankful to Priya, my true friend, without whom I would never have been able to realize my dream of completing this PhD. Priya and I started off on this PhD endeavor together and throughout this journey she has been my emotional anchor. Her intellectual perspectives and her constant encouragement helped me sail through this hard and challenging journey.
Finally and above all, I thank God for granting me the wisdom, and strength to complete this enormous journey successfully.
