BIBIOLOGRAPHY
BIBLIOGRAPHY

PRIMARY SOURCES

Burhanuddin Ahmad, (1931) : ‘Tarikh-e-Qutub Shahi’, Hyderabad;

Farishtah Muhammad Qasim (1829): ‘Tarikh-e-Farishtah’, John Briggs’ Translation, London.

Translation; Alexander Roger and Henry Beveridge,
Munshiram Manoharlal Publishers Pvt. Ltd. New Delhi;

Lahori, Abdul Hameed (1866-1868): ‘Padshah Namah’, (Persian Lithograph), Bibliotheca Indica Series, Calcutta;

Martin, Marie Hamilton (1980): “Bahmani Coinage and Deccani and North Indian Metrological and Monetary Considerations, 1200-1600”, Unpublished Thesis Ph. D. Dissertation
submitted to the University of Michigan;

Mir Abu Turab Mir Alam, “Hadiqatul Alam” A.H. (1266): (Persian Lithograph), Vol-I, Hyderabad;

Lithograph), Hyderabad.

Lithograph), Hyderabad.

King entitled, ‘The History of the Bahmani Dynasty’, London.

Zaman Khodaey, “Persian Elements in the Culture, Art and Architecture of Bijapur”, Thesis submitted for award of Ph. D. at the Osmania University, Hyderabad; 1989

Secondary Sources Numismatic & Others (Book & Booklets)

Abul Khair Muhammad Farooque, “Roads and Communication in Mughal India”, Idarah-I-Adbiyat-I-Delli, New Delhi; 1977

Gupta, P. L. and Muhammad Abul Wali Khan, (1993): ‘Copper Coins of Barid Shahis Dynasty of Bidar and Nizam Shahi Dynasty of Ahmadnagar’

Kate, P. V. (1987): ‘Marathawada under the Nizams’ New Delhi;

Sherwani, H. K. (1953):‘The Bahmanis of the Deccan’, Hyderabad;
Sherwani, H. K. (1974):‘History of the Qutub Shahi Dynasty’, New Delhi, Manshiram Manoharlal Publisher Pvt Ltd.
Siddiqui, Abdul Majeed,( 1956):‘History of Golconda’, Hyderabad;
Venkataramancharya, (1942): ‘The Early Muslim Expansion in south India’, Madras;
Whiteway, R. S. (1899): The Rise of the Portugues in India. London.

Articles & Catalogues:

Bright, R. K (1977): ‘The Coins of the Barid Shahis of Bidar’, NI, 7 / 9,
Burn, R. (1907): ‘The Bahmani Kings (A Report on 869 copper coins found in Betul District, Central Province)’, J.A.S.B.N.S.XI,
Burn, R. (1907): ‘The Qutub Shahis of Haiderabad or Golconda’, JASB, Vol-V;
Corrington, O. (1898): Coins of the Bahmani Dynasty’, Numismatic Chronicle;

Kaus, Hormuz (1960): ‘Coins of the Qutub Shahi Dynasty of Golconda’, Numismatic Circular. LXVIII, pp

Muhammad Ismaeel (1925): ‘Some Remarks on the Coinage of the Adil Shahi Dynasty’, (NS-XXI0, No-XXXIX;

Muhammad Ismaeel (1922): ‘The Epithet used on Copper Coins of Ibrahim Adil Shah-II’, NS-XXXVI.

325
Muhammad Ismaeel (1925): ‘The Epithet used on Copper Coins of Ibrahim Adil Shah-II of Bijapur’, NS-XXXIX;

Rohit Jigysu,
‘From National to Cultural Disaster, Consequences of Post-Earthquake Rehabilitation Process on Cultural Heritage in Marathawada Region, India’, (A research paper presented in UNESCO-ICOMOS Conference ‘Earthquake Safe’ Lesson to be Learned from Traditional Construction’, International conference on the Seismic Performance of Traditional Building, Istanbul, Turkey, November, 16-18, pp: 1, 4 (Fn. No. 11)

Shetty, B. V. ‘Coins’, XXXVI, No-4, Marg Publication Bombay

Siddiqui, Abdul Hameed (1966); ‘A Note on the Copper Coins of Murtuza Nizam Shah-II’, J.N.S.I., XXXVI; Siddiqui, Abdul Hameed (1964): ‘Some Copper Coins of the Later Bahmani Kings’, J.N.S.I.II.
Siddiqui, Abdul Hameed (1982): ‘Some Bahmani Copper Coins’, ND-VI & II.

Gazetteers:

Bhir District Gazetteer; 1969
Gazetteer of India’ Maharashtra State’, Part-II (Medieval Period); Ed. Dr. Kunte. B. G.
Imperial Gazetteer of India; Provincial Series, Bombay Presidency, Vol- II, 1985
Nanded District Gazetteer; 1971
Osmanabad District Gazetteer; 1972
Parbhani District Gazetteer

Reference Materials