Acknowledgements

It gives me immense pleasure to thank all those who have made this thesis possible...

I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Narayan G. Hegde, Trustee and Principal Adviser and former President, BAIF Development Research Foundation (BAIF), who was my Research Guide for this thesis. I am indebted to him for his constant guidance, encouragement and keen interest while undertaking this study. Without him, it would have been a futile attempt. His knowledge in this field is unsurpassable and I am fortunate to have been his student.

I am grateful to Dr. Davood Dargahi, my local Guide Professor from the College of Forestry and Wood Technology, Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources University of Gorgan, Iran, for his generous support in pursuing this study in Iran. He encouraged me to select agroforestry as my topic, which is one of the best of its kind.

I would like to thank Dr. Rahim Mirzaei Molaaahmad, Assistant Professor in Scientific Applied Higher Education Institute of Jihad Agriculture Ministry, whose guidance enabled me to complete my studies. I would like to express my gratitude to Dr. Seyed Hamid Matinkhah from the Department of Natural Resources, Isfahan University of Technology, Iran, whose research was one of the main references of this study and Dr. T. Shamekhi, Associate Professor in Forest Policy, College of Agriculture and Natural Resources, University of Tehran, Iran, the Supervisor of Dr. Matinkhah’s research.

I appreciate the generous cooperation received from Mr. Vahid Jafarian, Senior Desertification Expert, Ministry of Jihad Agriculture, from the Northern Forests Research Department, Dr. Khadije Razavi, Executive Director of Center for Sustainable Development (CENESTA) and Mr. Mohsen Nourshad the Research Expert for the Northern Forest of Iran.

I am thankful to Dr. Syam Vishwanath, Forestry Scientist from the Institute of Wood Science and Technology, Bangalore, India for introducing me to BAIF and to Dr. Narayan G. Hegde.

I am highly obliged to the researchers and members of BAIF Development Research Foundation, Pune, India, for their valuable assistance and for providing the basic information for my thesis. Special thanks to Ms. Sucharita Dhar for her editorial support and Pooja Majgankar for her valuable presence.

I am thankful to Dr. M.C. Nautiyal, Dr V.K. Sah, Dr. S.K. Lavania, Dr. Salil Tiwari and Dr. Arvind Bijalwan from the Forestry and Hill Agriculture College faculty, G.B. Pant University of Agriculture and Technology, Hill Campus, Ranichauri, Uttarakhendl, India, for valuable information.

I am grateful to Dr. J.N. Daniel, Dr. P.K. Kulkarni, Dr. A.R. Maslekar, Dr. V.S. Ghole and Dr. P.G. Saptarshi for their valuable suggestions during the work evaluation.

Thanks are also due to the staff of the Department of Environmental Science and University of Pune, for their help and cooperation during this work.

I would like to thank my friends Ms. Homai Khergamvala, Jenoos Gashasi, Shabnam Vatankhah and Mr. Emad Nouri for their knowledgeable assistance.

Last but not the least, I convey my regards and blessings to all those who supported me in every aspect during the completion of my project. I am indebted to my family and friends for their unparalleled support and cooperation.
