Acknowledgements

At the outset I express my gratitude to the Almighty for giving me an opportunity and ability to be a small part within the large plethora of research. I would like to express my most heartfelt gratitude to all the gifted people who have provided me their unprecedented and valuable help towards the completion of my thesis.

I wish to extend my deep sense of gratitude to my supervisors Dr. V.K. Mahajan, Professor, Department of Evening Studies, Economics, Panjab University, Chandigarh and Dr. Suman Makkar, Associate Professor, Department of Evening Studies, Economics, Panjab University, Chandigarh for their intellectual advice and stimulating support during the whole research. I shall always be deeply indebted to them for their constant inspiration and for the valuable time they helped me with.

I owe my gratitude to Dr. Indu Bala, Chairperson, Department of Economics, Panjab University, Chandigarh and all the faculty members of the department for providing me the aspired opportunities for this study. My thanks are due to the Office and Library Staff of Department of Economics, Panjab University, Chandigarh for their whole hearted co-operation during the entire period of my study.

I owe my continuing thanks to Dr. Sacchidananda Mukherjee and Dr. Sudhangshu Kumar, National Institute of Public Finance and Policy, New Delhi for their constructive suggestions. I appreciate the help of Directorate of Economics and Statistics, Government of Gujarat, Gandhinagar for supplying me required data.

I must express my profound appreciation and owe very much to my husband, Mr. Rupak Mukherjee, for his tremendous patience, inspiration and for the endurance he had put up with me during the entire period of my study. I am also thankful to my mother and mother in-law for their continuous encouragement.
