Acknowledgements

At the outset I would like to express my most heartfelt gratitude to all the gifted people who have helped me towards the logical conclusion of my doctorate thesis.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. (Dr.) B R Kandoi, former Head, Dept of Economics, P.U., Chandigarh under whose able supervision I have carried out my study. I shall always be deeply indebted to him for his constant inspiration and for the valuable time he helped me with.

I owe a debt of gratitude beyond repayment to Dr. RR Bhakar, Head, Dept. of Economics, Jai Narayan Vyas University, Jodhpur. He has always motivated me and provided me with timely and invaluable help during my moments of dejection and Mrs. Saraswati Bhakar for all her motherly love and affection.

I shall always deem it to be a privilege to express my thanks to Prof. MR Agarwal, Prof. HS Shergill, Prof. SL Kansra, Prof. AC Julka and all other teachers of Dept. of Economics, P.U., Chandigarh for their constructive suggestions whenever the need arose.

I sincerely thank Dr. U. Sawhney, Chairperson Dept. of Economics, P.U., Chandigarh, and also all the former Chairmen for providing me the aspired opportunities for this study.
My thanks are due to the Office and Library staff of Dept. of Economics, P.U., Chandigarh especially to Mr. Harichand and Mr. Ved Bhardwaj for their whole hearted co-operation during the entire period of my study.

My thanks are also due to the staff of Economic and Statistical Organisation of Haryana and other Departments of Haryana government for facilitating me with requisite data.

It gives me special pride in thanking my friend Allen Mathew for his constructive suggestions and bearing with the pain in this project to culminate. I am also thankful to my friend Dr. Asgar Ali Khan, for the useful discussions he held with me.

I must express my profound appreciation and owe very much to my wife, Mrs. Sunita Jatain, for her tremendous patience, inspiration and for the endurance she had to put up with during the entire period of my study. Above all, I am thankful to my two lovely children Sohit and Anish who indeed, sacrificed a lot of their happiness in order to make way for this study.
