DEDICATION AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This research work is dedicated to Dr B R Ambedkar whose genuine and sincere dedication to the cause of Dalits of India has given value to their lives.

I must admit that this work has meant many different things to me. It has provided intellectual stimulation, a medium of creativity and enhanced my sense of understanding and importance. Above all, it has provided me platform to interact with many inspiring individuals. I would like to acknowledge the contribution of these special people.

First and foremost, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my guide and supervisor Dr Rumina Sethi whose timely interventions during tough times made me survive and complete this work. At every stage in the course of this research project I benefited from her advice, particularly so when exploring new ideas. Her positive outlook and confidence in my research subject inspired me and gave me confidence. Her patience and careful editing contributed enormously to the completion of this thesis. I am also thankful to Prof Shelley Walia for his guidance and unstinting willingness to help at all times.

Without the constant inputs from my family members, this work would not have been possible. I also want to extend my thanks to my mother Krishna Mehra and father H S Mehra for their support and encouragement throughout the different stages of my studies. The positive attitude towards education in our home has been a major driving force for my earlier studies. I would not have been able to complete this work without their help and blessings. Thanks are also due for my sisters Lakshmi and Jyoti. Anu too made a difference with her helpful spirit.

I would also like to thank faculty members of English Department, my colleagues at Ram Lal Anand College and friends and the rest of whom I have forgotten to mention here but who have lent a hand of support and encouragement.
