Acknowledgement

Through the centuries one may have traveled but it is the guiding hand that leads one to one's destination. I thank my guide and mentor, Dr Alka Pande, for her constant advice, counsel and love. She helped me see light at the end of the tunnel and helped me along gently towards discovering within me the spirit and power to accomplish this challenging piece of research work. I also thank Mr Mukul Joshi, Financial Commissioner, Taxation, for his anecdotes of intelligence. The energy of the youth in Mandakini was a constant source of inspiration.

I would also like to extend my humble thanks to Mr S.K. Sandhu, Secretary, Finance, Chandigarh, U.T. and then Executive Director of the Northern India Institute of Fashion Technology (NIIFT) for giving me the timely leave necessary for the data collection and research work. I am indebted to Dr D.C. Bhattacharya, for his inputs on certain aspects of my research queries.

I must thank my Director, NIIFT, Mrs Vijay Sharma, for her support throughout my research. I would like to extend my gratitude to the Librarian, NIIFT, Mr Satnam Singh who helped me source reference material.

A special thank you to my teachers Mr Sharad Mathur, Assistant Professor, Dr Vandana Bhendari, Professor, National Institute of Fashion Technology, New Delhi (NIIFT) for their encouragement and guidance.

A special thank you to the Chairperson, Dr Rajinder Bhandari, to the teachers and staff of the Department of Fine Arts, Punjab University for their constant support. I also thank Dr Tirthankar Bhattacharya for important tips he was always ready with. I owe a debt of gratitude to Rajneet Kaur for all her help.

It would be most remiss of me if I did not thank my parents and my sister, Dr Adarsh Brar, and my brother-in-law, Dr Ramandip Singh Toor for their undying support through out the tough times I went through during my research.
