In the course of writing this manuscript, I have piled up a debt of gratitude to so many persons that it may be difficult to single any one of them out. Words fail me to adequately acknowledge the debt I owe to them for which I ask their forgiveness.

It is with great pleasure and a sense of deep regard that I would like to express my gratitude to my worthy teacher and guide, Dr. V. Bhalla, Professor Department of Anthropology, Panjab University who has provided the motivation, intellectual and otherwise that has been significant and important to me. I deeply admire his understanding, patience and sagacity that he showed at every step. His valuable guidance, sustained effort and keen interest at all stages of this work, provided me with the necessary confidence and encouragement in my moments of exasperation. "Thank you sir".

I owe a deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Bhasin Asstt. Prof. Department of Gastroenterology, Post Graduate Institute of Medical Education and Research Chandigarh, for his help in the collection of samples from the diagnosed patients. He was kind enough to take out time from his otherwise busy schedule and showed continued interest and concern for my work, till the last milestone.

I am greatly thankful to Dr. B.N.S. Walia, Director, Post Graduate Institute of Medical Education and Research Chan-digarh, for facilitating the data collection work in the institute.

My thanks are due to Dr. (Mrs.) Dhir, Dental department, Panjab University Health Centre; Dr. S.K. Sharma, department of Dermatology, Post Graduate Institute of Medical Education and Research Chandigarh and Dr. (Mrs.) Hardeep, Dental department, Rajindra Hospital, Patiala for their cooperation in the collection of saliva and blood samples from the diagnosed patients.

I also take the opportunity to thank the present and the past Chairmen of the Department of Anthropology, Panjab University Chandigarh for the facilities received from the department.

To the Council of Science and Technology, I am indebted for the financial assistance I received as JRF during the course of this study.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Rajvinder Singh Bains for providing the computer facilities and to Mr. Pushpinder Paul Singh Lehal for his kind help and cooperation in the typing of this manuscript.

I owe a great deal to the subjects who volunteered most willingly to donate blood and saliva samples for this study. I wish to offer my special thanks to them.

My family and my friends were the mainstay in my research endeavour. Their generosity and goodwill are gratefully acknowledged.

Chandigarh

(SONIA)