

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

On completion of the thesis, I bow before the Almighty for making me close to the finishing point and I am grateful to all those who rendered timely help to carry out this work.

Fond memories of my late grand father is always with me, inspiring me to work creatively and meticulously. I am sure that his blessings are always with me as it has lightened every hurdle in my way.

I owe a great deal to my supervising teacher Dr. Jacob John Kattakayam, former Director cum Professor, UGC- Academic Staff College, University of Kerala, for his incisive criticism, support and above all, the affection he has showered upon me throughout the tenure of my research. His enquiries and interventions motivated me to a large extent for the completion of my work.

Heartful thanks to Dr. M. Indukumari, former Professor and Head, Department of Sociology, University of Kerala, who has always been an inspirational force in the department. I always cherish her theory classes and the experiences that I have shared with her in the department.

I remember with gratitude, the intellectual insights provided by Prof. Manu Bhaskar, Head, Department of Sociology, University of Kerala, during the period of my research work. She is the first person who had identified my research temper when I was the PG student of the Department. I am also thankful to all the teachers in the department for their support and co-operation extended to me during the days in the department.

I acknowledge the support and encouragement extended by Dr. Assakumari, Reader, Institute of Distance Education University of Kerala, who has given an opportunity to serve as guest faculty in the Department of Sociology. Above all, I am indebted to the motherly affection she has showered upon me.

From the very beginning of structuring the conceptual frame work till drawing the conclusions, Dr. L. Thara Bhai, former Professor and Head, Department of Sociology, Madurai Kamaraj University, has patiently clarified my doubts and has directed my study with the right sociological approach. Let me bow my head and thank her sincerely for all the support she has extended.

It was my dearest teacher Dr. Lakshmi. V. Nair, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Humanities, Indian Institute of Space Science and Technology who has introduced me to the preliminary lessons of Research methodology and valuable experiences I have gained during my MA dissertation. Her guidance as it has laid the foundation for my pursuit and till now her inspiration and timely advice is a great inspiring force to me.

Embarking upon an unfamiliar research area means confronting a great many difficulties. I am deeply indebted to Dr. Asharaf Ali, Psychiatrist, Thiruvananthapuram mental hospital for providing me all the necessary details and also for sparing a lot of his time for me. Special thanks to Superintendent of Police of SCRB and office staff of rural and district crime records bureau especially Madhu Sir who provided all necessary information for the completion of the thesis.

I wish to record my sincere gratitude to the librarians of the Department of Sociology, Centre for Development Studies, Kerala University Library, Mahatma Gandhi University Library, Kottayam, JNU Library, New Delhi and NCRT Library New Delhi for offering me all help in various stages of my research.

I also take this opportunity to thank the religious leaders Fr. Syriac Panjikaran, Fr. V. P. Jose, Palayam Imam, Karamana Imam, Chandran Sir and Hari Sir who helped me a lot in the Key informant Interview.

My Pappa and Mummy always stood as a source of strength in my life and their sacrifice know no bounds and words are inadequate to express my gratitude.

For encouraging companionship and creative suggestions I am thankful to my husband, Saji Kumar S. who took care to see that I always remain focused on research and stood with me in both my academic and personal struggles. He has patiently beared my mood tantrums and not taking it as granted I proudly acknowledge that I am lucky to have him in my life and remember with great pleasure my dearest son Ashik whose love and support forced energy to me.

My very special thanks to my Raji Chettan who has accompanied me in my fieldworks and always stood as a source of inspiration, providing support wherever and whenever necessary. Reji Chechi supported morally and emotionally during my research. I record my deep felt gratefulness to their family also.

I record special thanks to Amma, Sudheer and Leena for the love and support which they showered upon me.

Special thanks to Basil maman, who bought materials from National Crime Records Bureau New Delhi.

It is also my pleasure to acknowledge the tremendous support given by Jyothi chechi, lecturer St. Theresa College Eranakulam, who helped a lot in edition of thesis even during her busy schedule. Sandhya chechi, lecturer Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam helped me to use all facilities in the university library and provided accommodation for me.

I take this opportunity to thank all office staff of UGC-Academic Staff College, University of Kerala for their immense support. I remember with thanks the technical support from Divya and Omana chechi Former staffs Reeta Chechi, Bala and Sheena. Especially Hari Chettan who helped a lot in proof reading. I am also thankful for his sheer encouragement and instruction.

I thank Mrs. Beena, Loyola College, and Thiruvananthapuram who clarified my doubts while dealing with SPSS.

I wish to record my thanks to Rajasekharan chettan for making this thesis more colourful and presentable.

I acknowledge all my friends and research scholars inside and out side the departments especially Sajuchettan, swapna chechi, uthara chechi and dearest manila for their support and help at various stage of this thesis in shaping my academic career.

I am deeply indebted to University of Kerala for providing me financial and infrastructural facilities. Last but not least, I thank the respondents of this study for their time, patience and for providing me an insight into the issues undertaken.

November 2010

Thiruvananthapuram