ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to express my deep gratitude to my guide Prof. C.N. Srinath for guiding me through this research project, especially for having honed and focussed my research interests. I am most grateful to him for motivating me in the chosen line of argument, allowing me to draw on his vast knowledge and experience, yet giving me the freedom to think.

I express my gratitude to Prof. Vimala Rama Rao, Chairperson, Dept. of English, Bangalore University, for her constant encouragement. To Dr. M.A. Yadugiri who has always offered support, my gratitude. Also to Dr. K.G. Bhuvana Maheshwari, whose timely advice saw me through some rough patches.

I acknowledge with gratitude the unflinching support I received from my family, especially my brother Pradeep, who with his astounding computer skills helped format this work.

Finally, to my friends Marilan Lund of New York Public Library and V. Guruprasad of the T.J. Watson Research Labs, for locating, procuring and gifting me with many of the books I have used as primary sources.

PRATHIMA IENGAR