ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My primary acknowledgement is to some eminent authors and practitioners in management and in the social sciences, whose writings have been a great source of inspiration to me all these years. Prominent among them are Prof. Paul Pigors, Prof. Charles A. Myers, and Prof. J.H. Richardson.

My indebtedness is great to the management of Hindustan Steel Ltd., Ranchi, and trade union leaders at the steel plants and at some other leading public enterprises who generously agreed to be interviewed during the course of my field investigations extending over three years 1964–66 and also supplied much useful data on the subject. In particular I am beholden to Mr. Hiten Bhaya, Secretary, Shri R. Sinha, Chief Industrial Relations and Shri P.K. Das, Chief Manpower Productivity and Training of Hindustan Steel Ltd., without whose help and cooperation, this study would not have been completed.

I am also grateful to Prof. T.N. Kapoor, Head of the Department of Commerce and Business Management, Panjab University, Chandigarh under whose guidance this work has been completed.
