Acknowledgements

I owe a debt of gratitude to my teacher Dr. P. C. Mangal, Reader, Department of Biophysics, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for his valuable guidance and constructive criticism at all stages for the accomplishment of this research project.

I acknowledge my indebtedness to Dr. G.S. Gupta, present Chairman and Professor S.R. Bawa and Professor K. C. Kanwar, former Chairmen, Department of Biophysics, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for providing me all possible research facilities available during the pursuit of this work.

I am very grateful to Professor P. N. Trehan, Department of Physics, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for permitting me to make use of the Ge(Li) detector system and Professor D. V. Vadehra, Director, Regional Sophisticated Instrument Centre for allowing me to use the Liquid Scintillation Counter.

I thank Dr. Malik, Department of Pathology, Postgraduate Institute of Medical Education and Research, Chandigarh, and Dr. (Mrs.) P.P. Bidwai, Department of Biophysics, Panjab University, for their valuable guidance in identifying the histological slides.
I acknowledge with thanks Dr. Chaubal, Head of the Department of Biophysics, Tata Memorial Cancer Research Institute, Bombay, for giving me training for one month.

Savita, Indresh, Sudhir, Madhu, Anita, Geeta, Parjit and my brother, Dr. Viney Gulati call for a special word of thanks for their untiring co-operation and stimulation for the fulfilment of this work.

Since the major part of this research was conducted under the University Grants Commission, research project (No. C19/78), therefore, I am thankful to the Commission for providing me financial assistance for this research. The award of Senior Research Fellowship by the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, New Delhi, is gratefully acknowledged.

I feel personally thankful to Mr. Yash Pal and Mr. Sawai Singh for their technical assistance and unmatching co-operation during the course of this study. I am equally thankful to Mr. Kishori Lal Sharma for his quality photowork.

Finally, I dedicate this small piece of research work to my parents who were indeed a great source of constant encouragement, understanding and patience to see this project accomplished.
