I sincerely extend my profound gratitude to Dr. H.N.Ramesh, Associate Professor & Research Guide, Institute of Management Studies, Kuvempu University, Shimoga, Karnataka, for his inspiring guidance and personal encouragement throughout the course of the work and preparation of this thesis.

I wish to record my deep sense of gratitude to Dr.S.J.Manjunath, Chairman, Department of Business Administration, University of Mysore, Manasagangotri, Mysore for his support and encouragement.

In addition, a sincere thanks to Prof. Aisha M Sherieff who gave me a great deal of support and words of encouragement during the course of this study.

I wish to thank to Prof. D. Anand, Prof. B. Shivaraj, Dr. R. Mahesh and Dr. M. Amulya, Department of Studies in Business Administration, University of Mysore, Mysore for their suggestions and kind co-operation.

I would like to thank Mr. P. S. Prasad, Mr. Jagadish Bahadur, Fellow Research Scholars, and Non-teaching Staff of Department of Studies in Business Administration, University of Mysore, Mysore for their help during the study.

I am deeply indebted to Mr. Thomas Sebastain, (Prof. Retired), Department of Commerce, Deva Matha College, Kuravilangad, Kottayam, Kerala and Mr. Joshin Joseph for their timely help during the preparation of this report.

I express my sincere regards to the Management of G.S.S.S. Centre for P G Studies and Research and my Colleagues for their support and constant motivation during the research work.

This note would be incomplete without thanking my family members who strode by me in this remarkable journey.
Ms. Parvathy Varma, my niece, owes a mention here. Her encouragement and support have been immense in every imaginable way.

Mr. Adithya Varma. R, my husband with his pleasantly nonchalant manners of functioning often helped to erase any trance of undue anxiety I may have had. His gentle and patient support forged the pillars of determination and passion to produce a quality thesis. He truly has been the unfailing support system for me.

My daughter Ms. Nanditha Varma, my father and father in law extended their constant support and unconditional love all through. Without their encouragement, patience, and understanding, it would have been impossible for me to finish this work.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to those who have contributed to this thesis and supported me in one way or the other during this amazing journey.

We all need a degree of endurance to achieve a dream. Yet the substances for dreams need inspiration beyond logical imagination. The innovative ideas for my unique dreams were passed on to me by my late mentor and godfather Mr. Edward Alphonse who not only taught me to achieve, but to also choose the right dream. With the blazing whiteness of a pearl in an unclear night, his inspiration spreads light on the paths I transverse in the direction of achievement and success. A light so intense, that even with his passing, it shall glow bright as ever in many forms. This thesis stands testimony to his infinite blessings bestowed on me.

My late mother Mrs. Padmaja Varma, was both my fiercest critic and ardent supporter. Her attention and care always ensured that I never wavered from set goals, most of which at times looked unattainable to me. She taught me to face challenges with faith and humility and her unwavering dedication to my improvement has been inevitable in every step forward.

Both these individuals have been pivotal to my enduring efforts to compiling this work. And every word inked here is dedicated to them.
