ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I must begin by thanking my guide Prof. Sivasish Biswas, Department of English, Assam University, Diphu Campus, for his worthy guidance, patience and encouragements during the preparation of the present thesis. Though he would never approve of the use of these words for himself, he is a person who of all persons is the best. He spared his valuable time for guiding even during the period of his Sabbatical Leave. Any session with him would guarantee a fascinating voyage through a maze of ideas. Without his innovative ideas, this thesis may never be materialized. If there is anybody who deserves to be called a Guru in the real sense of the word, it is he.

Further, I am also thankful to those who have helped me with their valuable guidance and support in the making of this thesis. My special thanks are also to my teacher and proposed Co-Supervisor, Dr. Sravani Biswas, Associate Professor, Department of English and Foreign Languages, Tezpur University through my entire thesis and making worthy suggestions. I also feel grateful to Shri Anup Kr. Dey, Assistant Professor, Department of English, Assam University Diphu Campus for his technical support during the final stage of drafting the thesis. It is also a pleasure to acknowledge all the faculty members of the English Department of Assam University, Diphu Campus for their support and innovative suggestions.

I also gratefully acknowledge all the staff of the Central Library, Assam University (both the Campuses), my fellow colleagues of the Central Library of our college, i.e, Srikishan Sarda College, Hailakandi for supplying me both print and web sources that helped me to generate ideas related to my research area. Formal acknowledgements for the use of extracts from copyright material would be too numerous for this page. References have been duly given and I hope these are adequate.

I am especially grateful for extraordinary encouragement received from our Principal, Dr. Ashok Kumar Das. He always remained a source of inspiration for me during this period. Moreover, the hi-tech facilities introduced by him in the college campus helped me very much to utilize something for my research purpose at anytime anywhere inside the campus.

I owe a great deal to my dear parents—Shri Ramendu Chakraborty and Smt.
Sabita Chakraborty and my brothers and sisters for whom no words of gratitude are enough as they have always encouraged me on the path of my academic journey, and who have made me what I am today.

Finally, I would like to express my thanks to my wife Sima for her constant support and help along with keeping me spared from domestic engagements when the thesis was being prepared; and of course I owe a great deal to my two sons (twins) having two years of age, Snehal and Soumil too because of their childish commotions that actually accelerated me to finish my thesis with a haste.
