ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In the completion of this work, I was fortunate to receive guidance, help, encouragement from my teachers, family, friends and relatives.

To begin with, I am very fortunate to have Dr. Shaukath Azim, an excellent teacher and most of all a wonderful person, as my research guide. His suggestions, advice, kindness and encouragement have guided me throughout my research. Words seem insufficient to express my gratitude to him.

I am also grateful to Dr. A.G. Mudbidri, Prof. and Chairman, Department of Sociology and Dr. U.A. Attar, Prof. of Sociology and Dean, Faculty of Social Science, Karnataka University, Dharwad for their encouragement, advice and co-operation.

I take this opportunity to thank the teaching faculty of P.G. Department of Sociology, Karnataka University, Dharwad, Dr. C.A. Somashekarappa, Dr. (Smt.) S.C. Shettar, Dr. Jayashree and Dr. D.B. Jyothi for their encouragement.

I thank the non-teaching staff of the Department of Sociology, Karnataka University, Dharwad, for their wholehearted co-operation. I thank all the staff members of the Libraries of Karnataka University, Dharwad, Centre for Multi-Disciplinary Development Research (CMDR), Dharwad and Institute for Social and Economic Change (ISEC), Bangalore.

I also thank the Panchayat Extension officer, Sri. Suresh P. Naik, Taluk Panchayat, Sirsi, for his timely help and co-operation. I thank Zilla Panchayat and District Statistical Department, Karwar, for providing various important basic materials for my research work.
I thank Arati S.R, Parveen Tilwalli, Noori, Rama, Shanta Bangari, Chandrashekar Dore, Dinesh Singapur and Suresh H.N for their encouragement and help in different capacities.

I sincerely thank my sisters and brother-in-laws, Sheela P. Jadhav, Veena K. Jadhav, Prakash P. Jadhav, Kantesh P. Jadhav and their family for encouraging and helping me in their capacities. My deep sense of gratitude to my brother Pradeep T. Pawar, who has helped me during my field work. He has taken lot of pains during the time of interview. I also thank my brother Prashanth T. Pawar, for his help and encouragement.

My sincere feeling of gratitude to my mother Premila T. Pawar, grandmother Laxmibai D. Jadhav, father-in-law Nemojirao R. Shindhe, mother-in-law Suvarna N. Shindhe for their constant encouragement and blessings. Their faith in my capacity gave me confidence to complete this work. My sincere feeling of gratitude also to my elder father-in-law Laxmanrao R. Shindhe and mother-in-law Rathnabai L. Shindhe, for their encouragement and blessings. I thank my brother-in-laws, sister-in-laws, uncle, aunty and all my relatives, for encouraging me in the time of research work. My special thanks to Pandu uncle, Murti uncle and their family for their concern in my study.

I owe a special debt of gratitude to my husband Shyamsundar N. Shindhe, for his patience and encouragement. His love and support helped me, to a great extent in the completion of this work. He stood by me all through my research work.

My most special love goes to my son Varun, who stayed away from me during the last stage of my research work.

All the respondents deserve a great deal of appreciation for their cooperation during the field work.

I thank Mr. Sameer Mirjankar, Dharwad, for typing work and in preparing the final script neatly and in time.

Vidya T. Pawar
