ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I thank the Vice-Chancellor and Registrar of Bharathidasan University for giving me an opportunity to do research in this esteemed University.

I take this opportunity to record my humble thanks to my Research Guide DR. I. MADALAIMARY, H.O.D. and Associate Professor (Retired), Kunthavai Nachiar Government Arts College for women, Thanjavur. The success of my research venture is due to the constant encouragement and suggestions given by her. Her unflinching support through the different stages of my research work will ever be remembered by me with gratitude.

I should record my gratitude to Dr. M.A. DAWOOD BATCHA, Secretary & Correspondent and Dr. M. ARUNACHALAM, Principal, Rajagiri Dawood Batcha College of Arts and Science, Papanasam for having supported me in carrying out this research work.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to Shri V. KUMARASAMY, Former Professor of Economics, Nehru Memorial College of Arts & Science, Puthanapatti, for his constant encouragement, advice and help extended to me to complete my research work.

I sincerely thank to Dr. T. GOVINDARAJ, Retired Professor, Department of Economics, A.Veeraiya Vandyayar Memorial Sri Pushpam College (Autonomous), Poondi, for his academic help and his contribution towards the selection of this research topic.

I am thankful to Mrs. KANBU, Principal (in charge), Kunthavai Nachiyar Government Arts College for Women (Autonomous), Thanjavur, for having granted me permission to do Ph.D programme.

I am thankful to Dr. L. SUNITHA, Head, Department of Economics, Kunthavai Nachiyar Government Arts College for Women (Autonomous), Thanjavur, for her encouragement.
I sincerely thank Dr. N. MANIMEKALAI, Director, Centre for Women Studies, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli, for having granted me permission to make use of the department library.

I specially thank the external member of my Doctoral Committee, Dr. J. GOVINDA DOSS, Head and Reader, Department of Economics, Government Arts College for Men (Autonomous), Kumbakonam, for his valuable comments and suggestions, which turned out to be a great source of enrichment for the completion of thesis.

I would like to thank Professor, Dr. A. SALEEM BATCHA, Department of Economics, Jamal Mohamed College, Tiruchirappalli, for his valuable help throughout the study. Mere words would not suffice to explain his advice and help extended to me to complete this thesis.

I am very much thankful to Dr. A. MOHAMED ABDULLA, Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, Government Arts College for men (Autonomous), Kumbakonam, for his help at various stages of this thesis. I am very much indebted to him, for without his enlightening instruction and encouragement, this thesis would not have been completed.

I would also like to thank to entire faculty in the Department of Economics, K.N.G. Arts College for Women, Thanjavur, who were provided me with the necessary encouragement and personal help.

Let me record my deep appreciation for the help rendered by Dr. S.SUBA, Professor, and Mrs. S. SAMEEM BANU, Centre for Women’s Studies, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli.

I would like to record my special thanks and appreciation to officials at all level in the DRDA, Mahalir Thittam, Lead Bank and District Statistical Department for not only providing access to data but also for sparing time to discuss various issues related to SHG and micro financing.

I record my sincere thanks and appreciation to the chief functionaries and field staff of NGO’s in Thanjavur District for providing field support in collecting the data and information from the groups and the members.
I express my sincere thanks to the librarian of Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli, and R.D.B. College of Arts and Science, Papanasam for their good help.

I wish to extend my thanks to all Ph.D research scholars of my guide for their timely help.

My sincere thanks are due to the respondents for their co-operation in providing necessary information without which this study would not have been completed.

I thank Mr. and Mrs. M. NAGARAJAN, Nagu Computers, Thanjavur, for having typed the thesis in the present format.

I am indebted to my mother, husband, brother, sisters, daughters, and relatives for their sacrifices that helped me to complete thesis.

Last but not least, I thank the GOD ALMIGHTY for showing HIS blessing to reach up to this level in education.

A.Maharunisa Begam
