ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my deepest sense of gratitude to my research guide and mentor Dr.C.A.Somashekharappa, Department of Sociology, Karnatak University, Dharwad, for his guidance and supervision in every respect of the Thesis. The invaluable advice, kindness and patience with which he steered me through this endeavour have all helped me a good deal in completing the work well and well in time too. He has also taken extra pains and put in efforts towards the completion of my research work. To cut the long story short I can only say that all the finer things in this thesis are definitely his and shortcomings entirely mine. For the same and everything which he has done to me, I am ever grateful to him for all this and everything else through which he has shaped me as a researcher.

I am grateful to the Authorities of University Grants Commission for awarding Teacher Fellowship and thus enabling me to complete my work.

I am thankful to the Karnatak University for providing me with all the necessary facilities to undertake this research work.

It is my bounden duty to express my sincere thanks to Prof.A.G. Mudbidri, Prof. U.A.Attar, Prof.K.M.Goudar, Dr.S.C. Sidramshettar and Dr.Shaukath Azim, Faculty members of the Department of Sociology, Karnatak University, Dharwad for their guidance and support.
My sincere thanks are due to Sri Shamanur Shivashankarappa, Hon. Secretary, Bapuji Educational Association Davangere, Sri. S. S. Mallikarjun, Joint-Secretary, Bapuji Educational Association Davangere and Prof. K. Shadakshariyappa, Registrar of the Association for their support and encouragement.

I thank the Principal, teaching and non-teaching staff of A.R.G. College of Arts and Commerce, Davangere for their encouragement and support.

My heartfelt regards to Sri. M. Basavaraj, retired professor of political science, A.R.G. College of Arts and Commerce, Davangere for his moral support and encouragement in my research work.

I am greatly thankful to my friend Dr. V. Keertishekhar for sharing mutual feelings of my research work. I acknowledge his co-operation.

I owe my deepest sense of respect to Prof. N. Tharkar Naik, Davangere for his whole-hearted support and encouragement.

I am greatly thankful to Dr. Harilal Pawar, I/C Director, Publication, Dr. Tarachand, Dr. Murari Naik, Department of Anthropology, Karnataka University, Dharwad for their encouragement.

I am ever grateful to all my kith and kin for having patiently stood by me throughout my study.

Sri M. Niranjanmurthy, Sri K. Shanmukhappa, Sri K. Rajashekhar and Sri H. Hanumnarasaiah, E.O. Hassan for their encouragement.

I wish to express my heartful appreciation and adoration to my wife
Smt. Sunita for her tolerance and co-operation, and my children - Karthik, T.N. and Manish. N. who have not mistaken me for not caring for them and not paying attention to their studies during the period when I was sunk neck deep in research work.

The present study would not have been possible, but for the help rendered by the staff members of the Basavanal Library, Dharwad, Institute for Social and Economic Change, Bangalore, Kendriya Sadan, Bangalore, District Statistical Officer, Chitradurga, S.N.D.T. Women' University Library, Mumbai, Municipality Office, Davangere, Tribal Cultural Research and Training Institute, Hyderabad and Administrative Training Institute Mysore, for providing materials which enabled me to complete this work.

The Lambani fraternity settled in Davangere city and more particularly the respondents have provided me not only the data but also showered affection and encouragement. I am grateful to all of them.

I thank Mr. Datta Patil of Shri Chaitanya Automations, Dharwad for his computer assistance and preparing the final script neatly and on time.
