ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I completed my M.Phil. degree in 1997, in which I had collected information on generation gap as a part of the dissertation. In this research parents of my respondents had expressed their experiences regarding intergenerational conflict. At the same time, the adolescent respondents had also expressed interesting experiences and the reasons for intergenerational conflict. This very much influenced me to pursue this topic for my doctoral degree. Today it gives me immense pleasure to submit my thesis on intergenerational conflict, based on sociological perspective.

With profound sense of gratitude and ever lasting indebtedness, I offer my sincere thanks to my esteemed guide Dr. Anil G. Mudbidri, Professor and Chairman, Department of Studies in Sociology, Karnatak University, Dharwad, for his most valuable guidance and encouragement throughout the period of my research work. Without his co-operation and suggestion this work could not have been completed.

I give my heartfelt thanks to my teachers Dr. A.E. Punit, Registrar (Rtd), K.U. Dharwad, Dr. V.A. Attar, Professor, K.U. Dharwad and Dr. (Smt) S.C. Sidrampettar, Reader, K.U.
