ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is with great pleasure that I would like to express my special and infinite appreciation and sincere indebtedness to the subject specialist Dr. Subhash D. Khandagale under whose able guidance I carried out my research work. His adept guidance, precious comments, advice and valuable suggestions have greatly benefited me in pursuing this research.

I would like to eloquently articulate my sincere gratitude to Dr. Arjun Jadhav, Department of English, Fergusson College, Pune and the Chairman, Board of Study in English, Savitribai Phule Pune University for his word of encouragement to prosecute this study. My special recognition goes to him for growing me a research student. His sparing enough and valuable time in checking and patiently editing the manuscript helped me to successfully complete this research work.

I remain grateful to Dr Ashok Chaskar, the Dean of Arts and Fine Arts, Savitribai Phule Pune University for heartening me at every stage to pursue research and complete it in time.

The words are inadequate to express my sincere thanks to my wife Sulabha Deokar, for her moral support and encouragement for the present study.

My thanks are due to my lovely and affectionate daughters Rigveda Deokar and Brahma Deokar for their unvarying support in the computer work, helping over the collection of information from various sources and for all other major and minor computation.
My special thanks are due to my friend E. S. Vasanta, Lecturer, Department of English, Vivekananda Institute of Languages (VIOL) Ramkrishna Math, Hyderabad who encouraged and helped me in the collection of material and completion of this research.

I also express my thanks to the staff of Ramesh Mohan Library, English and Foreign Language University (IFLU) Hyderabad, S. P. College Library, Pune Bai Jerbai Wadia Library, Fergusson College, Pune and Osmania University, Hyderabad, for allowing me to use their library premises and facilities to collect references and material useful for my research work.

I remain highly obliged to my mother Smt. Chandrabha Deokar who has always inculcated in me the importance of education with a constant flow of love and affection. My sense of recognition goes to my father, the late Rangnath Deokar for providing me the best possible education.

I profoundly thank my previous guide, the late Dr. Manoj Bhise for opening the doors of research and allowing me to work under him for sometime and encouraging me to embark on research in the present genre of literature.

Bhajandas Ranganath Deokar
