ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I am grateful to my Supervisor, Professor A.M. Nalla Gounden, for not only suggesting this interesting topic but also for his constant encouragement, valuable guidance and co-operation throughout the period of my research.

I am indebted to Dr.T. Lakshmanasamy, Lecturer, Department of Econometrics, University of Madras, who went through numerous drafts very patiently which improved the quality substantially.

I received much valuable comments and suggestions from Professor J.B.G.Tilak, Head, Education Finance Unit, NIEPA, New Delhi, who went through the final draft of the thesis. Professor K. Suresh Chandra, Department of Statistics, University of Madras, greatly helped me in solving many econometric and statistical problems. I have also benefited from the suggestions made by Professor G.Psacharopoulos, World Bank, Washington D.C., Professor Hessel Oosterbeek, University of Amsterdam and Professor K.P. Kalirajan, Australian National University. I am grateful to all of them.

I highly thank Prof.S. Subbiah, Department of Geography, University of Madras, for his encouragement and provision of computer facility to enable me to analyse the data. My thanks are also due to Dr. K.V. Eswara Prasad, New Delhi, for his suggestions.

I am thankful to a number of friends, especially to Dr.C. Ramamoorthy, Senior Lecturer, A.M Jain College, Ms. Nayantara and Ms. Janaki for their valuable help. I specially thank Mr G. Narayanan for bringing out the final draft of the thesis.

I would like to thank the authorities of Department of Science and Technology, Government of India, for the Junior Research Fellowship and the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research for granting me Senior Research Fellowship.

I wish to thank the faculty members and students of the Departments of Econometrics and Geography for their constant encouragement.

Finally, I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude to all my family members and well-wishers for their co-operation throughout the completion of my work.

S. MADHESWARAN